AN INVENTORY

We've taken inventory
The results herein you'll find;
We're telling you - we've got the goods -
This Class of '39!

Now, we've never cared for broadcasting
But just as sure as you're born -
If you want good things said about you
You have to toot your own horn!

Please don't think we're bragging,
And it isn't just pure luck -
But all the Seniors in this class
Have the goods the world calls "Pluck"

Of "Optimism" we record
About a million miles,
Which will carry us over the tough spots
To say nothing of our "Smiles"

And we've discovered truck loads
Of "Personality";
If you should wonder whence it came -
Why - meet our Faculty!

With such assets and a "Capital",
Which is the "Knowledge" we possess
A "Diploma" added to the lot
Is sure to bring "Success".

In after years when we've won our Fame
And our teachers chance to pass -
They may not remember even a name,
But they won't forget this Class!

That motto: "We will do our part" -
We'll stick to it - just you mind!
'Cause we're telling you we've got the goods
This Class of '39!

CHRONICLES OF THE CLASS OF '39

In the history of every graduating class there are certain memorable events. As we realize that our high school days are nearly over, we begin to think back over the four years of our career at P.M.H.S.

In the year of 1935, early in September, we began a voyage on the good ship "Parry McCluer" over the Freshman Sea. It was a happy day for us Freshmen with all our friends and loved ones looking on with proud and approving eyes, encouraging us in our new adventure.

Being enthusiastic and interested, we asked many questions of our loyal and faithful captain, Mr. Miller. Our Pilot, Miss Mann, was very patient and it was she who taught us the customs and ways of high school life.

Our stewardesses were Miss Meador, Miss Pritchett, Mrs. Graybill, and Miss Guill. Mr. Kling was our lone steward.

We were soon efficiently organized with Emmett Shewey, president of our band: Lloyd Page, vice-president, and Roy Cash, secretary-treasurer. Our motto was, "We do our part". The rose was our emblem and our colors were blue and white.

Many of us studied hard and at the end of the year were given passports for another voyage. Some passengers became seasick and drifted away at the end of our first voyage. Others signed for a second try on "Freshman Sea", and stayed behind when we started out for new adventures on the "Sea of Sophomores", early in September, 1936. This time with our new pilot, Mrs. Graybill, we made rapid progress. This year we felt vastly superior to the "Rats". The Sea of Sophomores is a quiet sea and this voyage was rather uneventful.

Not so our third year of sailing on the P.M.H.S. In the fall of 1937, our band now called, "Jolly Juniors" started on another nine month's voyage. As high and mighty beings it was our privilege to make the freshmen jump quickly to our bidding.

Our officers were Milton Henson, president; Virginia Brugh, vice-president, and Jack McKee, secretary-treasurer. This year we made our dramatic debut in "Everybody's Crazy", a three-act comedy. Our play was ably directed by our pilot, Mrs. Graybill. The play was followed by our Junior Party given in the Community Hall. Another memorable event of this trip was the Constitution Day Program directed by Miss Mann in which we as Juniors participated. This year we welcomed a new stewardess, Miss Seales, who took Mrs. Calvin White's place in the Home Economics Department. Faithful captain Miller was replaced this year by Mr. F. W. Kling, Jr. whose position was taken by Mr. L. V. Schreiner. Nancy Gilley, one of our faithful band, left us this year and settled in Charlottesville.

Early in September, 1938, we began our last voyage, this time on "Senior Stretch". Once again we changed pilots, Miss Guill succeeding Mrs. Graybill who retired. We also welcomed two new stewardesses to our crew, Miss Bosworth and Miss Nash, but sadly gave up our dear friend, Miss Mann, who met with a serious accident early in the summer. By this time desertions had reduced our number to twenty but we gaily organized with Milton Henson, president; Edith McCormick, vice-president; and Roy Cash, secretary-treasurer.

Our last voyage has been filled with adventures too numerous to relate in detail. We must, however, mention the most momentous.

In November, we presented in assembly a Thanksgiving play, "The Dear, Dear Children".

In February we received our class rings, the first of the newly adopted standard rings with a bust of Professor McCluer on one side and the facade of P.M.H.S. on the other.

On April 13, 1939, our senior play, "Bringing Up Mother", directed by Miss Bosworth, was presented with great success.

During our voyage our pilots have been faithful and loyal to us and in return we have grown very fond of them. Our Captain, Mr. Kling, has been very faithful also during the two years he has had charge of our voyage, We are deeply grateful for his interest in our class.

And now the end of the wonderful voyage of our high school life is in sight, but the class of '39 will go on seeking discoveries and wonderful adventures, for the important voyage of life is just beginning. We believe that we are able to go out in life now and meet any test that is put before us and this is due to the good instructions that we have received from our captains, pilots, stewardesses, and stewards. We will try to prove our sincere appreciation by always proving worthy of their efforts.
